AARON WOZNIAK HORSE POWER LOGGING

Aaron Wozniak is a professional environmental logger residing in Huron County with his family. Using chainsaws he fells the carefully selected trees to maximize present and future woodlot values. He then works with his trained team of Belgian draft horses- Mylo and Rex, to pull the logs from the bush, using a variety of equipment and techniques to minimize woodlot damage.

Passionate about his horses and the environment, Aaron has become a fascinating mix of old and new wisdom in this specialty line of work.

For more information about the benefits of horse logging, or information on Aaron's company, Horse Power Logging, simply check out his website at <https://sites.google.com/site/horsepowerlogging/home>.
