DEBBIE MCFADDEN

Debbie McFadden, has been a professional equestrian for over 25 years specializing in the hunter/jumper disciplines. She devotes her time and energy to training horses using a positive, patient approach, building their strengths and nurturing their weaknesses.

Debbie has competed at the Grand Prix level and is known for her ability to produce top quality show stock. Her students have won many competitions from short stirrup to National classes at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto.

Debbie has trained with many of Canada's top equestrians including Olympic Gold Medalist, Eric Lamaze, and is currently working with Beth Underhill for guidance with her top equine partners.

Debbie has her Level I coaching certification through Equine Canada.

She is also an "r" carded judge in hunter, hunt seat equitation and hunter hack divisions. Debbie judges approximately three Provincial shows per season as her time is limited with her own competition schedule.
