MIKE HUGHES

Solving Horse Cribbing Through Training

Meet Mike Hughes. Mike has been training horses in California for the past 23 years concentrating mainly on problem/vice solving as well as training reiners. After an incident that took place where a horse ultimately died from colic brought on by cribbing, (Find out more about this incident in the DVD) Mike set out to find a way to stop horses from cribbing.

Cribbing by definition is " a stable vice in which the horse places its upper teeth on the edge of an object, arches its neck, inhales and often produces a grunt or belching sound." (UCDAVIS School of Veterinary Medicine: The Book of Horses")

After countless hours of studying horses that crib, Mike started work on developing a program to stop this habit. The program is his two-step process defined in the 2 DVD set "Crib-Free™ Training". Today there are over 70 horses that have successfully completed the Crib-Free training developed by Mike Hughes.

No longer will you need crib collars or expensive surgery, or for that matter have to spend endless dollars repairing property damaged by a cribbing horse. No longer will you have to be the outcast of the barn because your horse cribs. No longer will you be turned away from a boarding facility because your horse cribs. There is now a solution.
